

Firebelly Productions presents

Long Day's Journey into Night

By Eugene O'Neill

February 9- March 2, 2008

Widely considered to be America's greatest playwright, Eugene O'Neill won the Pulitzer Prize for Drama in 1957 for Long Day's Journey into Night. O'Neill's masterwork follows the Tyrone family on one fateful, heart-rending day in the summer of 1912. Despite the family's troubles, we see the family's strengths, too; Those hidden strengths in all family relationships provide hope for the future. Firebelly brings the Tyrone family, with its frailties and force and shortcomings and hopes, to the intimate setting of Theatre on the Run.

Featuring: John Collins, Patricia Foreman, Andrew Pecoraro, Jon Townson, and Theresee McNichol

Directed by Kathi Gollwitzer

Seventeen performances

February 9, 13-16, 20-23, Feb 27-March 1 at 7:30 p.m. Please note the 7:30 start time!

Feb 10, 17, 24 and March 2 at 2 p.m.

Tickets: $15 (adults) or $12 students/seniors 65+

Special Senior Rate on Sundays $5.00 for seniors 65+

Group rates available for any performance; call 703.409.2372 box office for details.

Tickets online: firebellyproductions.net via Instantseats or call 703.409.2372

Performances at Theatre on the Run, 3700 South Four Mile Run Drive, Arlington, VA 22206

Firebelly Productions is supported by Arlington County through the Arlington Commission for the Arts and the Cultural Affairs Division of the Department of Parks, Recreation, and Cultural Resources.